SCOUTING

THE SHOPS with Sally

● We feel that it is a grave mistake to write for publication immediately after finishing a big turkey dinner.

● And if it were not for the stern look in the Editor's eye, we would stick to our guns!

● Well, it was a great day. All our relatives dropped in unexpectedly, just in time for dinner. It wasn't so bad until dessert came and we had to watch everyone else eating pumpkin pies from the Geneva Bakery. Topped off with thick, yellow, whipped cream from the Mission Creamery, they were superb—or so we were told!

● And John slithered the turkey off into the lap of his best suit. Only the expert aid of Beeson Cleaners will ever induce us to forgive either John or the turkey.

● Shortly after the fifth course, Sammy took a turn for the worse. When he refused a third helping of mashed Idaho potatoes from Westlake Market, we knew the situation was desperate. The hasty application of some tablets from Edwards Drug Store kept the situation in hand however. (By the way, Edwards Drug Store has all the enchanting baubles you'll want for Christmas day—tree ornaments, colored lights, sparkling gifts, silver tinsel, Christmas cards, wrapping paper.)

● There was a great deal of noise in the living room about this time, which we discovered was the result of Unkle Hezekiah and a football game and the radio becoming all entangled on the living room floor. Byrne says he will repair the radio for only $1. We never did hear the final football score.

● Nor were the children the little darlings that they should have been. Down in the basement they managed to find a jig-saw, an electric toaster and several other Christmas presents we had bought from the Meritt Electric Home-Craft shop and carefully hidden away. Santa Claus' life, also, is not without complications, we see.

● So we packed the infants all off to the Daly City theatre to see the Dead End Kids in "The Angels Wash Their Faces," while

Highlights & Sidelights

In High Style

A fashion that is making good this season is the hood that, at the mere turn of a hand, converts into a collar. It is not only the picturesque appeal of the idea that gets you, but its practicality is most convincing. In the glamorous though casual many-purpose costume pictured, the green, red, and white checked cape is lined with Robin Hood red which matches the vestlike jacket. The skirt is Robin Hood green. The green suede shoes have heel, moccasin vamp inset and bow of matching lizzard. The suede bag and gloves are in like green, thus giving emphasis to the importance of suede on the accessory program.

Japanese Synthetic Gas

Synthetic gasoline in Japan costs three times the market price of imported gasoline, says Industrial and Engineering Chemistry. The Japanese government subsidizes the synthetic product, the supply of which thus far does not exceed 10,000 gallons a month. Production is slated to be increased by 2,900 per cent within the next three years.

Mother Vine

The mother vine of all scuppernong vineyards in America still flourishes on Roanoke island, N. C.

Sands of Time

Ten miles below Washington, N. C., there are hoofprints which have been there since one Sunday in 1813, when a horse ridden by a drunkard threw his rider. The old peope of the community said it was a warning to stay sober and not to race horses on the Sabbath.

The department of labor was created in 1913.

Snoods and Veils

In the current millinery picture a hat without a snood or a veil or a "bustle back" is the exception. Coachman felts (favorite type this season) seem to call for a veil to add the feminine touch. You can see in the picture how effectively this idea works out. Here a mannish coachman felt hat in bright red has a long black veil brought across the top with the veil ends tied under the chin to form a large bow. The other hat is a black velvet pancake intended for dressy occasions. Its snood is finished with a huge black velvet bow.

Montana's Rome

The city of Butte, Mont., has 10 times as many underground passages as it has streets. The tunnels are in copper and zinc mines.

BUS PARADE ON SUNDAY

the Crocker tract to the terminus at Ocean avenue, the west end of Twin Peaks tunnel.

Every citizen is invited to load friends and relatives into the family car and join in the fun. The proposed path of the parade is the official route upon which service will start at 6 a. m. December 1. The line will travel from Colma, at Market and Mission, to the "Top of the Hill" turning east on Wellington to Hanover street; on Hanover north to Acton street to Sickels, and on Sickels to Alemany boulevard; Alemany boulevard to Junipero Serra and thence to Ocean avenue. The return is the same as far as Westlake avenue, where it turns west on Westlake to Junipero Serra, south on Junipero Serra to Washington street, east on Washington to San Pedro avenue and north on San Pedro to Market and Mission, the Colma terminal.

These two new busses, costing approximately $5000 each, are yellow with blue trim, with the circular monogram, "Daly City Municipal Bus Line" on each side. With a fifty passenger capacity each, motors in the rear, they are of the double door type, front and center, which facilitates quick and easy loading and unloading. Every conceivable feature for the safety of passengers and driver has been incorporated into their design.

The inauguration of the bus service on December 1, will be the consummation of nearly a year of planning and research on the part of city officials to give Daly City a faster and more adequate transportation system.

A telegram received by Mrs. Paul G. Selmi, Thursday, indicates that Mayor Selmi, with George McLeod and Ollie Beecher, will arrive in Daly City late Friday evening. The telegram was dispatched by the mayor from Needles, California.

Gunpowder Plot

The famous gunpowder plot of history occurred when Guy Fawkes entered into a conspiracy to blow up the king, his ministers, and the members of both houses of parliament on November 5, 1605. His plans were discovered after he had placed barrels of gunpowder in the building and prepared them for ignition. He was tried, tortured, and publicly executed in 1606. Parliament set aside November 5 as a day of thanksgiving known as Guy Fawkes day, which continues to be celebrated in some parts of England.

"OOMPH GIRL" PLAYS SYMPATHETIC ROLE IN NEW FILM, "ANGELS WASH THEIR FACES"

Dead End Kids Also Star At D. C. Theatre

For the first time in her screen career, Ann Sheridan, now famed to the movie-going public as the "oomph girl," is allowed to play a sympathetic role in her latest picture for Warner Brothers, "The Angels Wash Their Faces," now playing at the Daly City theatre.

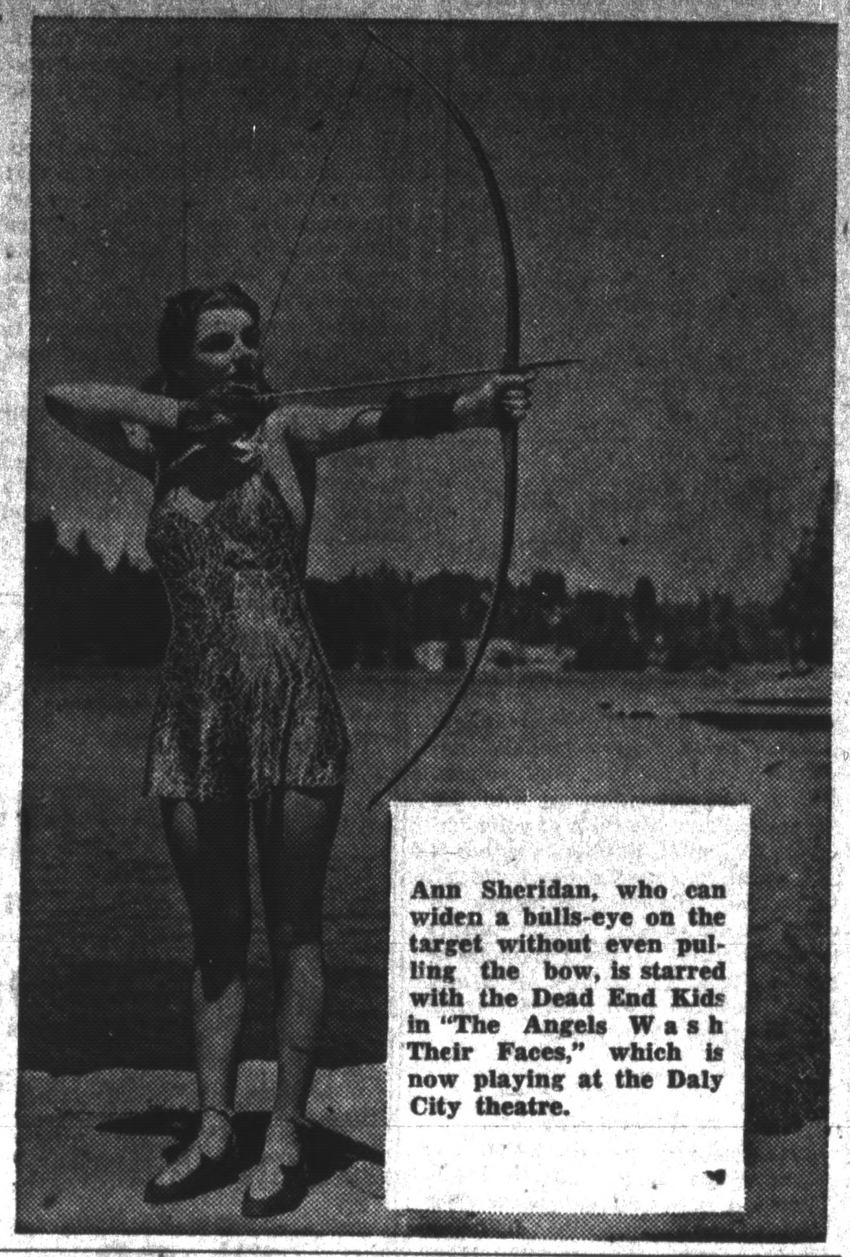
Her role as a social worker in this story of tenement slum youngsters enables her to demonstrate her fine acting ability.

For though she is now firmly established as a Warner Brothers star, Ann can look back on lean days when Hollywood regarded her with little interest, totally unimpressed by the fact that she had been hailed not long before as one of the country's outstanding beauties. To win success she had to prove that she was also an actress.

Glamorous Ann Sheridan therefore knows whereof she speaks when she offers this advice to beauty contest winners looking for a screen career.

"My advice to the girl who wins a beauty contest," said Ann, "is simply this: By all means go to Hollywood if you get the chance, but insist on a round-trip ticket—just in case! Don't imagine that you have automatically become a star overnight, or even the least important of minor players."

Companion feature on the new bill is "These Glamour Girls," starring Lana Turner and Lew Ayres.



Ann Sheridan, who can widen a bulls-eye on the target without even pulling the bow, is starred with the Dead End Kids in "The Angels Wash Their Faces," which is now playing at the Daly City theatre.

Her Plaid Coat

Of course little daughter must have a winter coat of gay plaid wool, for fashion simply adores plaids this season.

Free Barbecue Sunday at Colma

A free barbecue will be the feature attraction of the big dance to be given by the Night Owls this coming Sunday at Lovchen Gardens, Colma.

Held from 2 to 6 p. m., the dance is the opening one of a regular series to be conducted the second and fourth Sundays of each month. Union music will be played.

The Night Owls are well known locally for the success of their semi-monthly Saturday dances. The last one, a Barn dance, November 25, was widely acclaimed as one of the gayest and most informal parties of the year.

Admission prices to the dance this Sunday are nominal, and the public cordially invited.

That's Cricket

Although ordered by his physician not to leave his bed, Gerald Backhouse hopped out, dashed to the Melbourne, Australia, cricket ground and won his heat in the qualifying mile championship event. He returned to bed, stayed there till noon the next day, then started again and won the final.

Australia's Future

Pointing to "Australia's future place in the Pacific, her very existence perhaps" Prof. Stephen H. Roberts urges the New South Wales government to teach American history in its schools.

Local Church Plans Whist Party Tues.

Featuring outstanding cash prizes, St. Michael's church, 32 Broad street, will sponsor a public whist party in the parish hall of the church at 8:30 p. m., Tuesday, November 28.

There are more than eight cash prizes, according to members of the committee, in addition to a generous door prize.

Score cards are nominal in price, and a large crowd is expected to attend the affair. The public is cordially invited to join the fun.

Napoleon's Punch Bowl

A punch bowl which once belonged to Napoleon has been presented to the Philadelphia Art museum by the estate of Mrs. Emily McMurtrie Robins. The bowl was purchased at a sale of property once owned by Joseph Bonaparte, brother of the emperor.

Silver Fox Fur

One of the regular winter attractions of Norway is the great fur auction at Oslo, where among the vast array of furs, the pelts of silver foxes are the prizes.

Chameleon's Colors

The chameleon does not arbitrarily imitate the hue of the object on which it rests, nor is the process wholly under its control. The changes are reactions to certain conditions of light and temperature and to various emotional states, such as fear and anger. The physical cause may be traced to two differently colored layers of pigment under control of the nervous system. The best known species is ordinarily a greenish-gray, from which it changes to emerald green or to dull black, sometimes showing reddish or yellowish spots.

No Honking, Please

Horn honkers are on the spot in Spokane. Police Judge Frank Yuse has a distinct aversion to such practice. He fined C. L. Atkinson $1 for each of three toots on his car horn and said Atkinson's desire to attract a friend's attention was no excuse.

Chewing Gum Okayed

Chewing gum, pencils, rubber bands, toothpicks, pipestems and other things are restful and useful forms of exercise for office workers, Prof. H. L. Hollingsworth, of Barnard college in New York city reported recently. Experiments made over a four-year period showed that chewing relaxes tension and allows individuals to apply more energy to the tasks at hand.

Fabric Stress on Handsome Woolens

Changes in Industry Have Produced Finer Types.

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

It's going to be a woolly winter in fashion's realm. The demand for wool weaves is unprecedented, which is easily accounted for in that modern woolens are definitely tuned to all-year-round wear. The many changes that have taken place in the wool industry has resulted in types that are finer, thinner and more flexible than known in the years that are past.

Old-fashioned surfaces, textures and weaves present themselves again. Grandmother will know them by name—melton, twill, whipcords, duvetyns, satin broadcloths, boucle, frieze and wool bengalines are some of them. Teddy bear fabrics for school girls, angoras and hand-knitted fabric for evening jackets, sweaters and hat, muff and scarf ensembles, are all on the wool fabric list.

Modern tweeds are fascinating. Being lighter in weight than ever before, and more versatile in color. Tweeds now go round the clock from dawn to dawn. The new tweeds for evening ensembles are in soft honey, turquoise, gray or spice. Evening wraps are fur-trimmed or plain. A turquoise with platinum fox, a honey color with mink collar and revers are two little numbers to covet.

Jersey is a favorite. It goes into every garment, including sleeping, playing, swimming, cruise, tennis, golf, slacks, pyjamas, daytime basic dresses, suits, jackets, capes and evening clothes. What an adaptable flattering fabric it is!

Three-piece wool suits in three tense tones of one color are featured, tone on tone. Also suits, blouses and coats of three weights of the same wool fabric are very smart with little hats to match. It doesn't look too much of muchness, and it is a most practical and comfortable way to dress. As to wool hats "everyone" will be wearing

LET'S TALK TURKEY

— how to make Fresh Hot Dishes from cold left-over turkey

By Dorothy Greig

It is the third and fourth days in the progress of a roast turkey that begin to be a bit of a problem.

The noble bird has been reduced pretty much to scraps.

Turkey and Noodle Scallop is one way to make delicious use of cold left-over turkey.

There's lots of meat still left, but not enough to make a real show. Besides, by that time the family needs a little variation.

Here are two ways to do it:

First, we can make a most delicious Turkey and Noodle Scallop. This Scallop brings that cold turkey to the table as a fresh hot dish, savory, satisfying and full of goodness.

Turkey and Noodle Scallop

1 package (6 ounces) noodles
1 can condensed cream of mushroom soup
1 cup milk
4 ounces velveeta cheese
¼ teaspoon salt
pinch pepper
4 tablespoons chopped green pepper, cooked
2 tablespoons chopped pimiento
2 cups cooked turkey (diced)
4 tablespoons buttered corn flakes (rolled)

Cook the noodles in boiling salted water until tender, about nine minutes. Put the cream of mushroom soup in a saucepan and stir well. Then add the milk and heat, but do not boil. Stir the cheese (sliced) into the mushroom sauce and heat until the cheese melts. Remove from fire and add the seasonings, chopped green pepper, (which has been cooked 8-10 minutes in boiling water) chopped pimiento and diced turkey. Turn the mixture into a buttered casserole and sprinkle with rolled buttered corn flakes. Bake in a moderate (350°F.) oven for about 30 minutes. Serves 8.

Another thing we can do is make individual Turkey and Mushroom Pies—or one big pie, if you wish. But it's fun to make up individual ones in those shallow brown pottery bowls. Fresh from the oven, bubbling gently under tender biscuit crust, they tempt any appetite.

Individual Turkey and Mushroom Pie

1 cup cooked turkey (cut in ½ in. squares)
1 can condensed cream of mushroom soup
¼ cup milk
½ cup green peas, cooked
12 cubes of potato (cut ½ in. square)
4 small whole onions, cooked

Mix the cream of mushroom soup until creamy. Then add the milk, turkey, and green peas.

Place 3 cubes of cooked potato and 1 cooked onion in individual casserole or pie dish. Put turkey and mushroom mixture over the vegetables. Then cover with biscuit crust. Makes four pies.

Biscuit Crust for Pie

1 cup flour, sifted
1½ teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter
½ cup milk (approximately)

Sift flour with baking powder and salt. Add butter and cut into flour until mixture is fine like cornmeal. Add milk and mix until a medium soft dough is formed. Knead lightly on a floured board then roll about ⅛ inch thickness. Cut in shapes the same size as the individual pie dish. Place biscuit cover over turkey pie mixture and press down on edge of dish. Cut perforations in top crust so that steam may escape. Bake in a hot (425°F.) oven for 15-20 minutes.

Style Notes

Fashion-wise women favor smart simplicity.

Hooded lumber jackets are new in the sports field.

Shirred technique distinguishes both kid and velvet bags.

Gray fur on gray coats is call of the winter mode.

Increasing use of magnificent jeweled buttons is noted.

Dressy gloves are jewel embroidered or lace trimmed.

Fashion demands that umbrellas be ornamental as well as useful.

Wear a turquoise blue velvet turban with your black dress and coat.

War conditions bring an increasing call for practical daytime fashions.

Leather Important In Style Picture

It has come to the point that suede is regarded as important a medium for wearing apparel and fetching accessories as any fabric might be. The loveliest suede items imaginable are being turned out—hats, bags, dresses, coats, bolero jackets, tailored classic jackets, and so on. Seeing that suede brings into the fashion picture a wealth of color unsurpassed, small wonder is it that it has come to be considered "tops" in fashion. Leather trappings on wool sports togs include smart leather buttons, stitched applique of leather, leather bindings, belts and an endless list of the uses of leather too numerous to mention.

Largest Jewel

The Smithsonian institution has acquired the world's largest jewel. The stone is an almost flawless crystal of topaz, weighing 153 pounds, or 350,000 carats. The average topaz for a ring or necklace weighs about five carats. The huge gem was discovered in the Minas Geraes province of Brazil. Its color is pale blue on the outside and a pale sherry on the inside.

Jewelry Vogue Is For Diamonds Now

Diamonds have entered a new era of popularity, both as jewelry and as personal possessions of marketable value. In several style shows recently staged many of the manikins wore this sparkling type of jewelry in preference to the spectacular gold effects.

New ear-rings from a noted Paris house are called "opposites," in that one earring is a diamond flower set with sapphires, the other a sapphire surrounded by diamonds. Which do you wear in which ear? Well, that makes no difference, but to have a touch of sapphire blue repeated in your dress somewhere scores high in allure.

Diamonds can be worn for day or evening. One fine piece such as a brooch or a clip can be used on the coat lapel, at the neckline of a dress, at the center of the velvet neckband or even in the coiffure.

Community Players To Appear at Theatre

Daly City Community Players will appear on the stage of the Daly City theatre, Friday, December 1, with a popular-demand repeat performance of the three comedies which won them so much applause at the Jefferson Union high school auditorium recently.

The three plays feature sparkling situations, humorous characters and unexpected endings. During the last few weeks, the comedies have appeared by invitation on Treasure Island and at the Laguna Honda home. The entire cast is made up of home-town talent.

Not So Bad

The Melbourne, Australia, government is convinced that traffic and driving instructions offered in a humorous vein are more effective than the usual type. With every driving license now granted is provided a book entitled "Many Happy Returns," containing instructions like the following: "It isn't your fault if all the other road users are completely daft, but it is your fault if you aren't prepared for them to be so."

Long Way to Tipperary

William Bolster, who has more miles to his credit than any other postal worker in the Irish Free State, has retired on a pension. As he made his rounds in Roscrea, he often sang the famous war song, "It's a Long, Long Way to Tipperary," where he has walked a long way without leaving home. In his 52 years of service he has traveled a distance equal to 12 times around the globe, and has delivered about 12,000,000 letters.

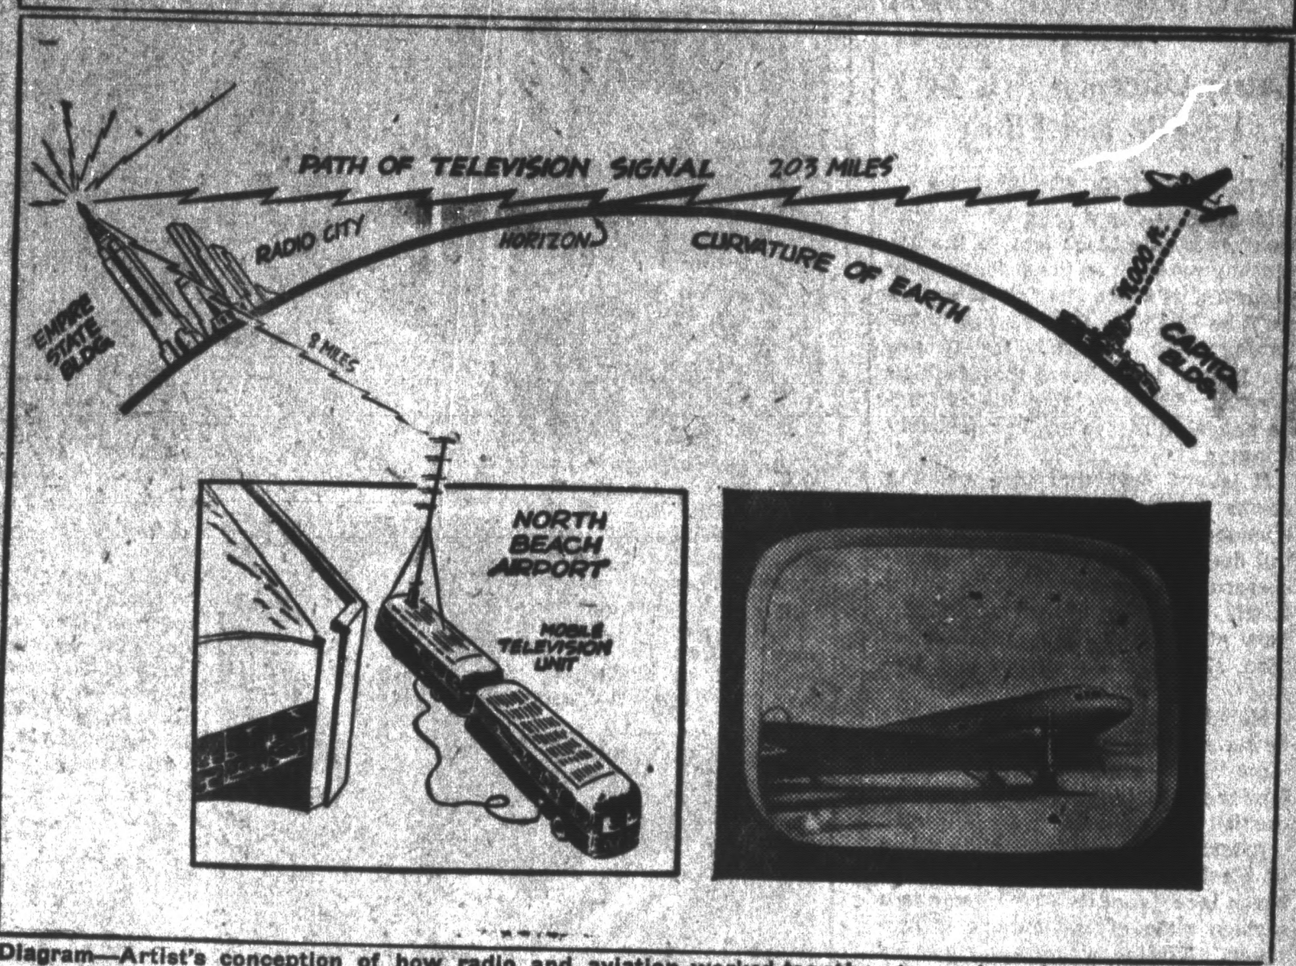
MEN SEEN 200 MILES AWAY BY TELEVISION



Diagram—Artist's conception of how radio and aviation worked together to receive television images over a distance of 200 miles. The images were broadcast from New York and were received in an airplane over Washington, D. C. Photographic inset—This photograph, snapped in an airplane flying in the substratosphere four miles above Washington, shows a television image of another airplane at rest on the run-way at North Beach Airport, New York.

TELEVISION in the substratosphere, more than four miles above Washington, D. C., made history Tuesday, October 17, when the Radio Corporation of America, with the cooperation of United Air Lines, demonstrated successful reception of images broadcast from New York, more than 200 miles to the north. The experiment marked the twentieth anniversary of the founding of RCA.

Flying over the nation's capital at an altitude of 21,600 feet, occupants of the plane, including Major General Delos C. Emmons, Chief of U.S. Army GHQ Air Force, saw David Sarnoff, president of RCA, and W. A. Patterson, president of UAL, who were seated in the television studios of the National Broadcasting Company in New York, as they exchanged comments on the parallel rise of the aviation and radio industries in the last two decades.

During the flight, what is probably the all-time long distance record for photography was made when cameramen in the plane over Washington snapped pictures of persons and objects in New York as they were broadcast by television.

Returning to New York from Washington, the plane landed at North Beach Airport, Long Island, for one of the most thrilling moments of the flight. For the last several minutes, occupants of the plane had been watching news reels and other motion pictures on the television receiver; but suddenly these stopped and in their place appeared the image of an airplane flying through the air.

Dramatically, the television announcer told the observers in the plane that they were watching their own ship as it circled the airport, dropped gracefully to the ground and taxied up the run-way to the hangers. Actually, the men inside the plane watched it land just as if they had been standing all the while on the ground.

RCA's experiment of long distance television reception bore out the theory that the ultra-short radio waves used in television travel like rays of light, in straight lines. It was necessary, in order to receive the telecast over Washington, for the plane to rise above the 16,000-foot level in order to overcome the curvature of the earth and keep within a straight line-of-sight path from the point of transmission.

Breakfast Jacket

The knitter who is thinking in terms of Christmas presents for her friends will do well to take note of this winsome breakfast jacket. You can make it in no time, for it is knitted in an easy effective drop stitch.

Turkey Talk

A mild hailstorm brought disaster to Perry O'Dell's turkey flock at Alliance, Neb. Three hundred young turkeys became frightened by the hail, piled up in a heap and smothered to death.

Paddlefish Found in Mississippi

A paddlefish is a large scaleless, fresh-water fish of the Mississippi valley, characterized by a prolongation of the bony carapace of the head into a long, flattened, paddle-shaped snout, with which the fish turns over the mud and gravel of stream beds in its search for food. Specimens sometimes exceed six

Exchange Privilege

Because of American shoppers' extensive use of the privilege of returning goods, large department stores must check off one day's sales in every eight to returns and allowances. The Twentieth Century fund, which conducted a study of the subject, found that the ratio tended to decrease with smaller stores.

Finds Aquatic Plant

Ending a search conducted by botanists for 70 years, Herbert L. Mason, curator of the University of California herbarium, has discovered flowering specimens of the Wolfiella, a small aquatic plant, in the marshes of the San Joaquin valley. The flower is about the size of a pin point.

Lovely Black Lace Adorns New Styles

Latest Offerings Are Very Fragile and Filmy.

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

If present-day ladies of fashion wear exquisite black lace to the extent mapped out on the current style program, it's like Spanish senoritas we'll be looking. Only seeing is believing how exquisitely lovely are the fragile black laces that fashion decrees. The new laces are as fragile and as filmy as one can possibly imagine.

It is not only that lace evening gowns are being fashioned in entrancing ways, afternoon and cocktail dresses, too, but black lace accessories, gloves, shawls, trailing scarfs, butterflies of lace in the hair, lace gloves and bows of lace to trim, all are in the picture this season.

Noted in the millinery realm are flattering black velvet caps that have visor brims of sheerest black lace with the bustle-back theme also carried out in lace.

Afternoon dresses have deep yokes of black lace thin as a cobweb. A black lace jabot on your blouse is a fashion note of outstanding importance. The most winsome use of lace, however, and one you'll love because it is so definitely practical, is that of the lace-trimmed black silk crepe or very sheer wool afternoon dress. To describe in general, the dress is simply and youthfully fashioned in the classic, refined manner that is considered so smart this season with, perhaps, a little deft draping or shirring just to achieve lines of grace. Keep the bodice perfectly plain with becoming heart-shape or square neckline or choker high if you are so inclined.

Comes now allure-plus in that all the edges are finished with narrow black lace used just as one trims with frilly val lace edging in the summer time. The flattering way of these dainty black lace edgings at throat and on little pockets, perhaps also up and down the seams, is something that words are inadequate to express. It adds to the charm if two or more rows of the tiny lace edging be frilled about the swing skirt hemline in youthful fashion.

Jumping Beans

Most Mexican jumping beans come from the province of Chihuahua; they are the seeds of various members of a family of swamp trees listed as euphorbiaceous plants. When the plant is in blossom a small moth (Carpocapsa saltitans) lays an egg in one part of the flower. The hatched larvae bore into the growing beans but do not attain full growth until the beans are hard and ripe. The larva inside the bean moves it by coiling up and then suddenly extending itself. Later in the season it cuts a circular door through the bean and changes to a pupa, and then, when the pupa is transformed to a moth, it escapes through this door. Close examination of the bean will show this means of exit.

Earth's Atmosphere

The earth's atmosphere is known to extend upward at least 120 miles.

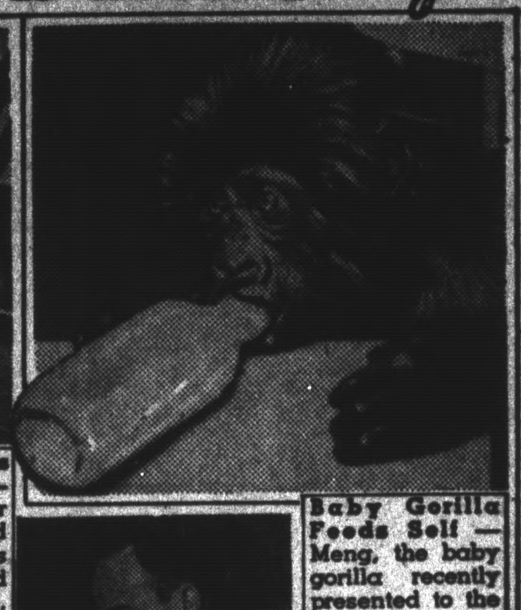
The HEADLINES Say:

Child Sends Flags to Rulers With Prayer for Peace — Barnes Hill, Pa.—12 year old Dolores Van Sant, saved up her pennies to buy flags in whose folds she enclosed a private prayer for peace, which she sent to world famous figures. The child has launched a campaign to have the flag put up in all homes.



Baby Gorilla Feeds Self — Meng, the baby gorilla recently presented to the London Zoo by the Belgian Government, is now settled comfortably in his new home and drinks from a bottle by himself.

Peace via Music — Pietro Yon, organist of the Vatican and St. Patrick's Cathedral, participated in ceremonies marking the formal opening of the new Hammond Organ Studios in New York City recently with a program based on the theme, "Peace and Tolerance in Music."

Lily Pons, glamorous Metropolitan Opera diva and concert star, introduces a vogue for "muffing" your evening ensemble. A tiny muff repeats the neckline of her favorite concert gown of blue velvet and sable. The rose-crowned toque is also sable.

Nantucket Island

A striking feature of the homes of old Nantucket island, a high spot on many of the 52 Pilgrim Tours of New England offered by the New Haven Railroad, is the "Widow's Walk" which surrounds the chimney, and often the whole roof, of these old houses. Here the wives of the sailors and captains of the whaling ships which put out of Nantucket in the days of her greatness used to walk, high above the breakers, to watch for the sails of their husbands' ships returning.

Cottonmouth Moccasin

The cottonmouth moccasin is a dangerously poisonous snake generally of dark chestnut-brown with some darker barring and with yellowish-white stripes on the head and throat. The common name of this snake refers to the white lining of the mouth, which it is said to display before biting. Cottonmouths may attain a length of four feet. They are not aggressive and most cases of snake bite in which they are involved are due to the reptiles being stepped on.

Paris Flashes

Small felt hats are voluminously veiled.

Couturiers announce they will "carry on."

Spotted furs are played up in jackets, in hats and as trimming.

Pillbox hat with fabric or felt top with fur sides and trim are liked.

Dresses with ankle length skirts take place of formal dinner gowns.

Gas mask cases are fashioned to serve also as decorative accessories.

Brass buttons on coats were featured in Molyneaux' midseason opening.

Newest dresses are styled with long bodice lines and softly draped skirts.

Black Suede Shoes

Black suede shoes stand at the top of the list. As to colors a decided flair for dark green suede footwear exists. Wine comes next and browns are always good.

Dame Fashion Now Goes Star Gazing

It's star gazing we will be enjoying this winter, for the latest is star-shaped nailheads and sequins, scattered over bags, snoods, gloves, dresses and wherever spangled effects adorn. Silk prints with star patternings are also shown.

Scholarly Intruder

Because an erudite Minneapolis burglar was catching up with his reading, the police caught up with him. The scholarly intruder entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Farnham while they were absent. In the course of his ransacking he espied an interesting magazine. He comfortably propped his feet up on a table and became immersed in an absorbing story, oblivious of passing time. Meanwhile the owners returned and called the police, who escorted the bookworm away.

New Jewelry Ideas Are Cropping Out

Gold jewelry accents on black are still the outstanding fashion. However, new jewelry trends are developing. One of which is the increasing favor expressed for silver necklaces, bracelets, clips, buttons, belt buckles and other gadgets. Huge silver-wrought lockets suspended from silver chains are especially good style.

There is also a tendency to wear white jewelry, moonstone settings being in high favor. Many style-alert women are wearing exquisite diamond or rhinestone pieces especially with black or the new rich wines and greens. As for pearls, they have held good right along and still remain first choice with women who dress quietly and with unfailing good taste.

Gulliver Travel Prints Are Latest

Fabric prints inspired by the characters and mood of Jonathan Swift's immortal classic are on the way. The promise is that we will be seeing ere long children's dresses, negligees, nighties, and so on made of these new picture prints. Ladies' housecoats, dresses and blouses will be styled of these tested rayon prints that promise perfect fabric construction, color fastness and washability. They will show all the leading characters in miniature, also castles in the sky and other pictorial motifs.

Initials on a Bow

Your own initials cut out of silver and set into the center of a flat silver bow make a personalized pin which may be worn at the throat of a frock or as the clasp for a plain dark belt.

Bacteria Tests

Tests show that certain types of bacteria or tiny organisms present in anthracite gangway waters and sewage have the ability of readily consuming hydrogen and carbon monoxide from gaseous mixtures.

Scouting the Shops

we attempted to forget our chagrin as best we could by reflecting that we knew where to get a big $1 box of Christmas cards absolutely free with a four-month's subscription to the Daly City Record at the usual rates. (Call RAndolph 3215 for details of this unusual offer.)

● Yes, it was a great day. Cousin Henry and Great-Uncle Jonathan started an argument which shortly involved the entire clan over who should use the family car to join Daly City's big parade this coming Sunday, to welcome the new busses home. It was only by using the greatest tact that we were able to change the subject to the big whist party that St. Michael's church is holding tonight and to which everyone is invited.

● Thinking that bargains at Farmers Meat company would be a safe subject, we glowingly described how Farmers were featuring leg of lamb this week at 26c a pound; how Farmers will cut meat any way you like, dress it up with parsley and even help you decide how to cook it. (It would have been a safe subject, too, except that Cousin Hester doesn't like lamb and her husband does—oh, well.)

● Sinking into a chair to cool ourselves off, what should we overhear but Great Aunt Kate telling Cousin Minnie that yes, it had been a fairly good Thanksgiving dinner, but that the Night Owls club were having a free barbecue this coming Sunday at Lovchen Gardens, and that you could dance all afternoon there with a union orchestra playing.

● Our morale was beginning to feel slightly shattered, and we looked about appealingly for John. We finally located him over in a corner, explaining to everyone just how good Armour's Star sausage from Robertson's Egg Store was . . . of course Sally didn't quite understand the fine points of cooking it, but even so, it was darn good sausage. . . .

● Three or four muffled crashes from the kitchen told us that most of our good dishes were on their way to a better world—while a look at our best tablecloth convinced us that no one but the New Process Laundry could ever restore its gleam and whiteness.

● We sat down in a corner by ourselves and tried to think. All our money is gone, we thought, and how will we be able to put food into the mouths of our children for the next few weeks on what is left of our grocery budget? Then we remembered with acute relief that Milo is holding a big sale on Highway canned goods this week—their bargains are really recommended for a deflated budget. Milo also has lifesaving specials in the meat, vegetable and poultry departments, too.

● While we were pouring over Page 8 of the Shopper, beginning to feel somewhat better, a sudden sharp banging of the door told us that another relative had departed in high indignation. We discovered it was Uncle Chenery, who shouted back that all right, if we didn't want him to play baseball in our parlor, he was going up to the Mission Recreation Center and play ping pong, absolutely free for half an hour Saturday night. (See coupon on page 6 of the Shopper.) Yes, and there was free dancing, too, and no one asking him not to spill ashes on the floor!

● It's almost over now. Life must go on some way. But hereafter, for the rest of this festive week, Sally is dining at the Hilltop Lodge, where the lights are low and the music soothing, where relatives do not drop in unexpectedly to see you, and where Thanksgiving can be forgotten in the mists of the past! And a happy new year to all, said Tiny Tim.

HAT AUCTION

Sea of Galilee

The Sea of Galilee of Biblical fame is below sea level, yet its outlet flows into a sea! The Sea of Galilee, a body of fresh water 13 miles long and seven miles wide, is 700 feet below the level of the sea. Its outlet, the River Jordan, carries the overflow to the Dead sea, a body of salt water, which is 1,300 feet below sea level. That's as far below sea level as the water can go—there is no outlet!

4-H Clubs

If all the 4-H club members in the United States were to march single file, all in one long line, that line woud be more than 700 miles long.

Shipwrecks Missing

New Zealand has a shipwrecks society and no shipwrecks. It was disclosed by the Shipwrecks Relief society that money is accumulating in the bank for want of disaster. The society obtains its finances from the shipping companies and the harbor boards of this country, all of which make an annual contribution. Year by year the funds grow larger. Now they stand at $80,000 and are safely invested. This has resulted in the society now receiving more than it spends. The position is regarded with satisfaction by local governments, it seems. Mayor Arthur H. Allen of Dunedin has said: "It is gratifying to know this money has been invested in gilt edged securities."

Service After Hours

A 12 o'clock closing order doesn't daunt the restaurant owners of Amsterdam. When midnight strikes, they close shop, but put automatic vending machines in front of their stores. These retail sandwiches, cake and even ice cream cones.
